

Launch of Framlingham College Business Club

On Friday 5th October members of the newly founded Framlingham College Business Club enjoyed their inaugural breakfast meeting.

The primary purpose of this innovation is to provide a networking forum for the benefit of current parents, ex-pupils and friends of the College alike. It is clear from the enthusiasm shown at this first meeting that membership will quickly grow from the initial 54 members as plans are already under way for a London based extension of the Club.

- Business members will benefit not only from association with fellow members but notably from access, via a discrete electronic link, to the Club Directory listing several thousand potential customers.
- The College and pupils will benefit from more focused feedback from members as to what employers are looking for in youngsters today. This will in due time help to shape the College's evolving curriculum.
- Offers of career advice, internships, work experience and help with the College's 'Dragons Den' activity are further examples of benefits for all parties.
- Identification of what business members are looking to get out of this special relationship will enable the College to promote and support the huge number of businesses that form the College's wider community.
